Pre-WWI Involvement Scenarios (Scenario number 1)

You are unemployed because you are a German immigrant. You have good carpentry skills but speak little to no English.	You are employed by the city as a policeman. You make a very nice salary ($20 per week) and work 12 hour days, 6 days per week.	You are a groundskeeper for a cemetery. You speak a little English and are very mechanically inclined.	You are a school teacher. You teach in a private high school for young men. Your salary is fair ($12 per week) and love what you do.
You are unemployed due to an over abundance of workers with your skill.	You are unemployed because you have no marketable skills. Before you move to the US from Italy, you worked in a vineyard and picked grapes.	You are employed and work at the Henry Ford Plant on the assembly line. You make a very good wage ($35 per week) and work 60 hours a week.	You are employed as a male nurse in a local hospital. Your salary is nominal ($7 per week) but you are allowed to eat two meals a day in the hospital cafeteria.
You are unemployed but have an opportunity to work on a rural farm to milk cows. Your salary would be $5 per week including free room and board.	You are married, and have 2 children. You are a teller with a local bank and are ready to be promoted to head teller. Your salary is $8 per week and will be raised to $14.	You are presently unemployed. Your skills as a handy man are no longer needed since your employer passed away. You live with your family in a small tenement building.	You are filthy rich and don't have to work. Your life as a "City Gentleman" keeps you busy enough. Your only responsibility is keeping your passport up to date since you travel to Europe so often.
You are a priest with a local parish. You have no employment issues and probably will never have any. All you have to deal with is church and moral issues. You do not get involved with politics. You do, however, run a small kitchen where you and your volunteers feed the indigent.	You are an actor and have done a number of silent movies. You are very emotional and have definite opinions about the 'killing field'. You lost three of your brothers in the Spanish American War and hope never to hear of war again.	You work for the city government as a bookkeeper. You make a decent wage ($12 per week) and like what you do. You are newly engaged and look forward to your upcoming wedding.	You are a tailor and own your own business. You came to the U.S. ten years ago from Italy. You are 35 and support a very large family. Your income is good, and often make garments for the elected city officials.
