

Internet addresses:

Tracks: Impressions of America Series number #111 - America at War

<http://www.ecb.org/tracks>

This is the accompanying website to the series. This site has a wealth of information. It is rich in research material. It also has material that covers all the episodes in the series.

Trackstar

<http://trackstar.hprtec.org>

Trackstar

track #5107track #7676

Trackstar is a free online source of a multitude of sites. These sites are navigated by going to the Trackstar site and following the desired track according to the directions. The sites can be accessed by a search on the subject, keyword or a track number.

Pacific Net

<http://home.pacific.net.hk/~tkchung/wwi/wwi.htm>

A history site that covers information about World War I

Time for Kids

<http://www.timeforkids.com/TFK/news/story/0,6260,175678,00>

This is a news site for children easier to read than the CNN site.

CNN

http:// CNN.com

This is the internet site for the CNN news channel. It has all of the latest breaking news as well as achieves. The archives will be needed for this lesson.

Ask Jeeves

<http://askjeeves>

This is a very user-friendly research site. (search engine) The user types a question and the very prim and correct butler finds the answer.

The History Net

<http://www.TheHistoryNet.com/THNarchives/WorldWarII/>

Dozens of links on WWII articles; Many with actual photographs taken during the war.

Grolier's Online:Chronological outline of WWII

<http://www.grolier.com/wwii/chrono.html>

This site has an outline of the major happenings that surrounded World War II.

World War II: United States' Entry into the War

<http://www.historychannel.com/cgi-bin/framed.cgi>