These programs are based on the award winning children's books by Marc Brown, who has this to say about the origins of Arthur the aardvark and his schoolhouse pals: "When I made up the first Arthur story for my son Tolon one night at bedtime, I never dreamed it would turn into a book, then a series of books, and now a television series...I hope you enjoy getting to know the whole gang and then you can make up stories about their adventures." Each half-hour of Arthur includes two 12-minute segments and a 2-minute break featuring children participating in a related Arthur activity.
